TOUR CODE: DE-KK+TREK

Sabah, Kota Kinabalu Mountain Trekking

Sabah Foundation Building, State Mosque, Kota Kinabalu Mt. Resort,
Raban Lata, Summit - Low's Peak

Day 1 Airport - Kota Kinabalu (D)

Meet arrival at Kota Kinabalu Airport, proceed for City Tour. Kota Kinabalu was formerly known as Jesselton. It is the capital city of Sabah and also gateway to other major towns and districts. It has a population of 300,000. Places of interest are Sabah State Mosque, State Museum & Heritage Village; Puh toh Tze Buddhist Temple, & Wisma Tun Mustapha. Proceed for approximately 2 hours ride from Kota Kinabalu to Kinabalu Park. Check in Mountain Resort. Dinner at Park Restaurant.

Day 2 Kota Kinabalu (B, L, D)

After breakfast, proceed for registration, There is two trails lead to the top, the Summit Trail and Mesilau Route. This 2 trail meet at Layang-Layang at 2,740m (or Km4 from Timpohan Gate). The Summit Trail is the well trodden main route take by most climbers. The trail winds up a steep staircase of gnarled tree roots to a mossy world of drifting clouds and orchid-draped trees, where pitcher plant and rhododendrons abound. The Mesilau Route start from Mesilau resort and leads to Layang-Layang. It takes longer (about 5 to 6 hours) to reach Layang-Layang. The Mesilau Route is good for those who are interested in plant and wildlife than in the actual climb to summit. Conquering Mt Kinabalu does not require mountain climbing skills, just basic fitness. Packed lunch in the way up. Upon arrival check in to Resthouse. Dinner at Laban Rata Restaurant. Overnight in Resthouse {dormitory type with bunk bed}

Day 3 Kota Kinabalu (B, L)

After a night's rest, off again at 03.00am for the 3-hour trek to the summit to catch the magnificent sunrise if weather permit. In the dark, you can see the beams of torch lights as the procession of climbers trudge higher and higher. Ladders, hand railings and ropes are there to help you over the steeper parts. About 06.00am, reach your final destination; the highest point of Mt Kinabalu, the summit of Borneo a 4095.2m. As you wait in the cold, dawn gradually creeps over the horizon, illuminating the darkness with the light of a new day. In clear weather, you can almost see all of Sabah spread out below. Watching sunrise at the top has been described by travelers everywhere as a life enriching experience. Climbers descent back to the rest house before swirling clouds obstruct visibility. Breakfast at Laban Rata Resthouse. Then descend to power station and transfer back to Park Headquarter for certificate. Set lunch at Park Restaurant. Transfer back to Kota Kinabalu town and check in hotel.
